Matts, Thanks - more than tuppence worth of advise - I think you are right. Just these things don't seem to sell well round these parts. Its such a shame as I built them so bloody well - I mean they are better than any LaScala bass bin - birch ply - absolutley precise joints - horizontal braces around the dog box - I mean I spent 2 weeks on each cab - weep! I may keep them as... tables? I like the idea of eventually building the 7 horns for a number of reasons 1) horns rule 2) they are Waynes favs and that counts for lots 3) I lurve horn bass (when its right)).....Stefan
