Subject: Re: With top and bottom transitions
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 13 May 2007 14:30:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Your horn is starting to look pretty good. That is similar response to my midhorn. If placed in a corner, the walls act like horn extensions. The horn isn't designed to be used outside, but if it were, it would need to be longer and the mouth transition would benefit from a wider exit angle, As it is, indoors, the walls do this for us.