Can anyone recommend a good resource for re-coning of 2225H drivers? Kits or services. If services, something fairly close to the DFW area would be preferable. It's turning out to be more expensive than I thought it would be. In any case, I came into 6 drivers that need some refurbishing. After repair I planned to sell 4 of them and keep two (assuming they will work in a Stage Seven Pi as a replacement for the Omega's, otherwise I'll sell all 6).Wayne, if that is something your people can help with it may be worth a drive to Tulsa.Let me knowThanks
