Alright I'm thinking of an upgrade. I have had the the studio 2pi's for 3 or 4 years now and enjoy them but want a step up in performance. My system is Bottlehead Paramour 2A3 amps, Foreplay pre, Seduction phono. I have a little bit of everything music style wise. Currently in a small place so a corner horn is out of the question. I am leaning towards going all the way and getting the best now to avoid future upgrades so I am thinking of the 4 pi pro. Is there a big difference in doing that setup with the added midhorn on top? Also Wayne, If I went with the non-kit version what are the cabinets made from? Solid wood? MDF and veneer? I just don't currently have the room to do the kit again, and I don't know of any local cabinet builders who could do it. Thanks any advance for any advice anyone has. randy
