It just has the high pass and it's a 4th order L-W. The darn 16ohm woofer means huge coils and the parts for the board run to $200 so it'll be a few weeks until I can order them. Looking forward to it. The little dials on the ART tell me I'm near 14dB attenuation but I can't be sure. 14dB wasn't quite right with the old passive crossover. What can be done to tweak it a bit w/o going to the full next step down? 15 and 30 ohms with a .22cap, perhaps? Something else?
