Been listening to the Cafe Blue CD while putting a coat of flat black enamel on the bottoms and backs of the boxes last night and another just now, saving a few trees. Replaced the brass terminals (tin shall not touch my signal, have to direct wire the woofers and horn drivers, too) in the $3.00 Dayton cups with Ponoma gold-plated tellurium copper. Tonight after work the boxes get additional bracing and stuffing. Tomorrow I get to inhale contact adhesive and lacquer thinner, I love the smell of lacquer thinner. And Patricia Barber and her band. Cafe Blue makes you forget all about CD vs. LP
