I'll pick up a copy today. In a way, I'm glad I missed it in the theaters. Sometimes it's nice to see a really good movie first time at home. I like to go to the theater, get a couple of hot dogs and a box of popcorn. That makes it a little more of a social event - a date sort of thing - and costs about a zillion dollars too. Still, I like to go out to movies and I do that pretty often. But to really watch a movie, and to crank up the sound and get into it, it's fun to watch at home. So this will be great!
