... they surely did sound nice. Indeed there was less total bass output but still a fairly balanced freq. response. Nice midrange as you said and great macro dynamics/slam, especially with my Adcom 555. My Bottlehead stuff is temporarily put aside pending reworking the mess of wiring due to one too many modifications. I am using my home brew parafeed 76 tube preamp which, BTW, sounds great with the Adcom. Thanks for the help and I will report back when I have the new cabs up and running. Merry Christmas to all!Garland
