The K33 is a great woofer for use as a home hifi sub. The problem is it needs a big box to hit the low notes. It is suitable for use in cabinets from 3.5ft³ to 10.0ft³ tuned to 35Hz, but if you want to use it as a sub, the cabinet should be on the large side. That would probably make a multi-sub arrangement somewhat disagreeable, just because of the size of each cabinet. But it would work nicely otherwise.
