Paul, there's a huge underground market for naive art. Your design is aesthetically pleasing, unlike my attempts at writing Japanese, which the locals can only translate as "a monkey choking a squirrel", etc. Any thoughts on how you will mount the HF driver? I think I remember reading in your review that you felt the drivers blended seamlessly. But I promise I'm not making this up, I read in this forum some talk of altering crossover points... buggered if I can find the post.
