I no longer listen to vinyl nor will I ever in the future. I would like to offer this for sale on your site, with all proceeds going to ART. No B.S. Since I have no way to check quality of vinyl anymore, I would like to send it to you for verification. Once you have approved its quality, I will post a for sale add and you verify. If you think the quality is sub-par, then simply do with it what you wish. Like I said, no BS - no catches. It just kills me seeing this sit and collect dust. It would make me happy knowing someone is getting some aural pleasure from it.
