

---

Subject: Re: Working in the coal mine

Posted by Manualblock on Fri, 10 Sep 2004 11:14:55 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi Wayne; Funny how no matter how far down the line we travel the songs and music of our youth has a resonance to us that nothing else really approaches. I was a teenager during the British Invasion, and all those Beatle/Stones/Who et al have the most profound effect. I can remember upon hearing the songs which girl I was dating at the time, as if she were in the room. I can see by your list exactly when you reached your majority. J.R. (Another ten years they may be the only thing I remember, can you picture the assisted living crowd belting out Won't Get Fooled Again?)

---