Probably the most bizzarre occult influences on government that I know of were alleged of Nazi Germany. If you look around, you'll see plenty of controversy there, just like there is surrounding governments that are still around today. One could argue that Nazi Germany doesn't exist anymore, and that makes wild stories of it tempting for those that opposed its ideology. Then again, there are those that maitain the holocaust didn't happen, even if you dig up Babi Yar and show them the remains. So if you ask me, a simple look at the facts of history is enough to confirm that probably a lot of what is alleged fits the facts, and is probably true. It's just hard to believe, that's all.
