You know I follow this Google groups boxing forum and there is this guy who keeps posting this Jesus Freak stuff on every page. Just for giggles I looked on some of the other groups and sure enough; there he is. Long capitalised posts about ranting from the bible. Is this something on all the group forums does anyone know by chance.It is hard to ignore due to the length of the posts.I appreciate the dedication it takes to do that but it's annoying to read around it all the time.
