You know it really isn't funny how this social club that gets a tax break under the guise of religion can even have the opportunity to have a say in what teachers teach. I want my tax dollars back from all those paid ads they place. And that pandering little weasal; like he buys all that nonsense. I say we re-introduce the draft and the Bush twins are the first to go; you know..as an example of how committed to this war he is.
