

---

Subject: Re: DeLay on the fat druggie's radio show.
Posted by Manualblock on Thu, 06 Oct 2005 14:03:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I gotta be honest here and say that while Maher says some funny things I am not a fan. He seems too pompous and self-aggrandizing. Arrogant is probably the word. Full-of -himself maybe? The beauty of Buckley is he never raised his voice or cut-off a guest; he just demolished them with his wit and erudition. (did I spell that right?) And he picked real intellects to challenge; not the straw men they use nowadays. I never agreed with him but couldn't get enough of him on TV. I pine for the old days of Joe Pine and Allan Burke. This goes back to the 60's. Allan Burke sat in one of those hanging egg chairs and he had a goatee. Pine actually punched a guest once for disagreeing with him. Ah; the good old days; when men were men and sheep were nervous.

---