Subject: Re: And the 41 other appointees that were confirmed without being a judge first....
Posted by Bill Martinelli on Tue, 18 Oct 2005 19:07:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I can see your point and even agree with it to an extent. I'm sure some for the best judges on the court may have had no previous service on a bench. I still insist that a prerequisite for being a Supreme Court justice, a person should have prior judicial experience.