They don't seem able to accept the concept of complexity of thought; so everyone has to be assigned a single issue in order for them to be able to wrap their simpleminded world view around the subject without becoming confused and disorientated. Thats how Fox news captures the feeble of mind night after night by repeating the same simple concepts endlessly.They turn to CNN and the strangeness and confusion of complete sentences and three syllable words disorients and frightens them into a fog of fear and distrust of all that intellectual speak.Once I saw a Fox news watcher accidently turn to PBS and the difficulty of comprehension sent him into anaphalactic shock. He is still wrapped in his strait jacket shivering and moaning exhibiting clouded sensoriam and disasociative disorder.Five rounds of ECT and no progress.Sad.
