Subject: Re: I'll Take A Stab at Part of This One
Posted by Bill Martinelli on Tue, 20 Dec 2005 03:29:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Why not use Walter Cronkite as a reference? I'm the guys from the 60's had their lines to tow; but there isn't anything so demanding as American corporate profit structure as there is today. I think Wayne's on the right track here. It's all about ratings and profit. The high profile and controversial shit is where the most money is. Then, they hide behind free speech, 1st and 5th amendment.