I said: So goodbye my liberal friends. I'll reserve the right to post "should" Libby and Delay be found innocent but other than that it's been fun.Funny how you changed the word "should" to the word proven "proven".And of course you know as well as I that I stopped posting on this site because it's impossible to teach a liberal the truth. They don't want to hear or see the facts. It had absolutely nothing to do with Tom Delay. If you would care to read my reasons again see the link below
