
Subject: Re: These are good points you make...
Posted by Manualblock on Fri, 03 Mar 2006 20:43:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yeah; I wasn't sure about special needs equipment. I knew about books and supplies; I know that is not accounted. I was more concerned with physical equipment or certain types of learning aids that would not be normally provided for. There's nothing hah; what if you go over the 7% limit? And what about transportation to options that you cannot provide but are called for in the syllabus?
