If you want to live in a fantasy world be my guest but I choose not to join you at this point. There are more significant things to discuss than to waste time on such a silly point. Show me the report CNN did on the more than six Generals retired who spoke out and I'll tell you if it's fair. Right now you are arguing a position that doesn't exist. And you know what? I have not even been writing about Iraq as of late because I believe that even all the hardcore right-wing reactionaries like yourself have come to the conclusion that the war was wrong and we should leave. The few diehards left who seek to continue this argument are like the last guys left in the bar before closing time. Completely clueless that their friends are all gone home; and talking to the mirror. I don't mean that in a bad way; the argument about Iraq is just moot at this point.
