Hi,I am saving to go to California, Its a slow process, but Ill get there one day you can bet on it!!Anyone else out there wanting to go too?I found a really good website www.visitusa.com with a heap of information about places in USA to travel, including accommodation, Maps, pictures, articles and historical sites to see. It had so much good content I wanted to share it with my friends.If visiting California or USA for that matter is your thing check it out and tell me what you thought.
