Yeah; it was on cable for months. My mom says there really weren't any orgies; "thats a lot of hooey", she claims. It actually was a good place to grow up. The beach was 2 miles south and there were untold numbers of kids running around. I used to hitch to the beach every day in the summer at age 14 up. And we had these private pools that only the community could use, there were four of them, one in each quadrant.
