That was the best; stopping in the drive through for a twelve pack. That was when the retailers really had the pulse of the people. Cars are pretty fast now I see. I have been looking at Camaro's for me to use for two years until my son gets his licsense. Test drove a V8 6 speed. Not Baaad. I would have to say it was competitive with many of the more reasonable Muscle Cars of the past. Maybe not a Hemi-Cuda or Chevy 454 but still acceptable. Or maybe I just got older.
