Well here's a fact then. Every poll taken on both sides since the compromise has an overwhelming majority of constituents of both parties supporting it. It's the revolution of the reasonable and about time too. Now lets get these guys out of Iraq. You know the truth is Gay Marriage just doesn't orbit in my universe, let the .001% of people who want this have it. Having been married twice it just ain't all it's cracked up to be. And where in the constitution does it say they shouldn't be allowed Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness like the rest of us?
