Thanks...It's no easy for me to express myself on English...not to mention the grammar:-)I watched old film by Romero (?), one of the classics of B-movies, but today I watch (almost) only Buffy, she's my hero...Those paradox things... Remember "Perfect day" song, from "Transformer" album, Lou Reed? "High" on beautiful emotions/love, and then you realized that's some other kind of "high", and song ended with "You're going to reap just what you sow"... but, this "warning" is so lazy, relaxed and "high", too...Great moment of r'n'r, I liked it a lot - but I can't listen to it anymore.That's about it...

Perfect Day
