Subject: Re: "The walls are crumbling for these people"
Posted by Manualblock on Sat, 16 Jul 2005 18:17:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Our side as you call it ran things from 1992 to 2000. Everyone made money/had fun and got along with the world. Saddam was contained in his little country doing no harm to us. Now what do we have? Our pals in Saudi Arabia who funded and helped Al Qeada. But they helped George when he needed a contract for his oil company. The one he drove into the ground with dumb management.There are more terrorists coming over the open border to Mexico than are coming here from Iraq. Thats right ; they are just walking on in and setting up for the next 9/11. Where's George? Stealing oil for his buddies at Halliburton. Close to 1800 American boys would still be alive if not for George and his buddies. And we would be safer using those guys to patrol the southern Borders.