Hi,Paleeze, Your side didn't run things from 1992 till 2000. If you recall the real people that make the laws/bills is congress and that was controlled by the Republicans in the time period you mention.Spare me the oil bit huh. If we wanted the oil we would have taken it during the first gulf war. We didn't take it then and we aren't taking it now. I agree about the open boarder. But it's the Democrats screaming bloody murder every time someone brings up the prospect of closing our boarders and stopping illegal emigration. Yes that's "illegal emigration" not undocumented workers as the Democrats now want to call them. Our "boys" as you put, it defended the American way of life. They died with honor protecting this country. Not for oil or anything else but freedom.
