Hillary is not a stupid woman, and I would not consider her or her run for President as a "joke."I do believe our borbers do need to be shut down NOW.  Not with guns, but help the Mexican people make Mexico a place they want to live.  For the most part, most Mexicans I have had contact with are a very proud and hard working group of people.  Example: there are two new houses being built behind me right now.  One house framed by an American crew and the other by a Mexican crew.  The Mexican crew works from sun up to sun down six days a week.  The American crew works from 8 or 9 until maybe 4:30.  The Mexican crew is now on their second house.  I agree that the situation in Califirnia is out of control (as well as other southern states.)  Something must be done.  I believe the governmnet must go after those whom employee ILLEGALS.  You cannot blame a group of people trying to better their lives.For the record, President Carter was pro-military; he was a 1946 graduate of the Naval Academy.Just curious, who is your front-runner for the Republican Party's candidate in 2008?  Condi?  I think she would be a formidable candidate and a good President.....Colin
