Listen guys,I do believe in being civil and trying to understand the other side. Yes, we disagree politically. But we do have things in common. One, our love of music and two our love of country. Our differences only contribute to our personalities and it's what makes our countries great. I wish you all a good night. I probably will not respond to further questions because I find myself getting angry. I come here for audio, a hobby that I truly love. I don't want anything to spoil that. But not to worry, I will be back again, I am sure, for more spirited debate. Was that to wishy washy? Damn! Maybe too many beers speaking.Mr Vinyl
