So this new Supreme Court appointee, he is a lobby guy for big business I see. I had a feeling they would get a young business friendly guy. Next time you use a product make sure it is safe because when they get through gutting the product safety legislation we are all doomed.And remmember he will be living somewhere where it is safe but you; well your family may not be so lucky and those chemical spills in your nieghborhood just walk around them.Don't forget; your retirement is only as good as the laws that protect it.The Waffle-man strikes again.
