You’re not allowed to hear the president in person without a loyalty pledge and a ticket. Even then you can be dragged out into the street by political operatives because you look “suspicious”. “You’re with us or against us”.The government's been usurped by the corporations, and everything they tell you is an outright lie, but nobody cares.The land is populated by unthinking acolytes who perpetuate the rule of the corporations because by swallowing the advertising of the corporations and acting on it without thinking.The rule of law has been subverted to the benefit of the corporations.Search and seizure are no longer restricted by constitutional guarantees.Cops play “find a joint, win a house” and no judge will stop them.Perpetual war has been declared. Anyone who doesn’t support perpetual war is a traitor.Free speech is permitted only in “free speech zones” (and you thought the whole fucking country was a free speech zone).Can you support anything else but anarchy without being a serf?
