Say Damir; thats a pretty good picture. I actually wouldn't mind blowing it up to a larger poster size. The contrast between the stone projection of the building and the organic shape of the tree is a great shot. Actually the top of the tree sort of looks like a cloud. Why are there no other trees?So you took your family on an historical vacation?Boy I have to say that really looks medieval.Got anymore pics?It's amazing to see a building thats a thousand years old isn't it.Whats the signifigance of this particular church?
