Sorry our tastes didn't mesh. 45 minutes-- well that's _half_.Maybe I just like Bruce Campbell or anyone as Elvis and Ossie Davisas JFK. It was more a One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest for me than any vamp rip-off. I liked the Egyptian hieroglyphicgrafitti-- Bill Epstein would appreciate that I betcha---it's his sort of sense of humor.Especially after those posts about Sandra Dee. After all,Bubba is bemoaning the fact that a nice young thing doesn'teven care if he's in the room while she's adjusting herdress or what ever it was. Bubba says, "I might as well bea housecat." I kinda feel that way myself most days.I cannot mount a big defense for the film. It was recommended to me by the staff at the store-- one of the "film buffs" if you know what I mean-- someone who's prob'ly seen Casablanca abunch of times unlike me who bailed at about that same 45minute mark. There haven't been any at all picks to click and I rememberedwhat you all said about "I Heart Huckabees." I will avoid thatlike the plague. With my new dvd player I am catching up on commercial-freestar trek episodes and old plays. The ones I picked upat the library are Jacques Brel Is Alive And Well andthe "Antigone" by Jean Annouille. Also got the gy-reen showcalled "Basic" with Travolta and Jackson. I'm not ready formuch heavy duty drama so I'll put that in first.
