I grew up in a country with a socialist system. I have a healthy distrust of government, like our founding fathers here. THe less the better. Nand I didn;t spend all these years settling down here to live in a society where everyone wants a handout from government either. The America I know is better than that. We fix thngs ourselves, as small communities, and ultimately as one big community. We don;t rely on some mealy mouthed bureaucrat to tell us what to do or give us directions. -akhilesh
