More then 20 years ago, I was in the army ship (ferry boat) that ferried our trucks with 6m ship-ship rockets to military base on some island. (I can speak of that now, this country/army no longer exists :-)). Although we didn't like the army, my buddies and I had some pride, we were "chosen ones" who can "handle" those things. We were young and sharp, and probably thought that we are the coolest guys in the world, until some old man with two naked girls passed by us in his yacht. Girls waved to us...
