Yeah, what you said. And very well-said indeed. Ken Tucker, a media critic and observer of the music scene and author about it as well, admires Buck Owens. Tucker has been interviewed lately regarding a new book called "Kissing Bill O'Reilly, Roasting Miss Piggy." I haven't seen that yet. I'm preoccupied with with another titlecalled "Mediated: how the media shapes your world and the way you livein it" by Thomas Zengotita. Anyone interested in the old 'medium is the message' thing will enjoy it.
