Well; yes, thats why I offered an explanation. Just because I disagree and become strident at times I always respect an honest opinion. What was it about my response that you would think otherwise?Your post was fair so I responded. When you suggest there are some who find my posts extreme; of course I am curious. I know they are extreme; but if you feel strongly you should respond strongly; certainly nothing personal.I try not to say anything in a post I wouldn't say in person. You know this is a small group of very differing types. Thats whats interesting. Even though it is an audio forum; if you play football all day; sometimes you want to shoot hoops.
