If there really was a God there would be no way we could ever have something so pathetically bad on TV as American Idol. Thats proof there is no God.I like the Jewish God; vengeance, redemption, petty vindictiveness, lust; Like a regular guy only with the miracles. My kind of God.The Catholic God is too prissy and the Mohameddians too fanatic. The protestant God is too busy counting money and balancing the books to bother with us here on earth. And his followers are all anal retentive. The Seventh Day Adventist's???The Buddhists are too scary becuase they don't believe all this exists in reality.But yes I see your point; there are plenty of churches so there you go; nice comfortable place in which to worship as you see fit.
