Hi Damir:::You just said the worst things about the forum - you didnt like it at all. But you posted many messages per day. Why? To make it better?:::Tried to do just that, yes. Non-judemental posts. Posts with technical content... and yet giving ample room for alternate views... even when a seeming criticism was made of the choke you bought... I also allowed and noted that the company might have some insights or reasons of their own and that they were under no obligation to disclose anything.Again... even excepting for the purely technical posts of mine which you yanked down... anyone can go there and see what I contributed. :::This "game" continued too long, but now it`s the end. You lose.Byebye.:::yes... that's your anger showing as it has shown on several posts in this thread. And you have power to use or abuse.... your choice.:::P.S. And yes, you can post your long tirades here, no moderation... What a happiness for you.....well... at least it doesn't suffer from capricious moderation.msl
