See... I don't care about sides. I am not aiming at you, or douglas, or Wayne or anyone else to be on my side or not on my side. It's absolutely immaterial to me.what I am aiming at is.... shouldn't we all be following the rules? I posted up what Wayne had written several months ago on this issue of trademarks. You have done everything to encourage and allow this continued violation of our trademark right in the forum which you moderate.And then wish to ban me for pointing this out.And then you start flaming me on a public forum outside of the dungeon... where I have not said one ill word about you. Falme me all you want here... but you have a responsibility outside of this forum to not be the one flaming others (especially since your the mod).msl
