A few OPTs that "Heyboer" made for Doug and his friends are not "Peerless S265Q", but "modified copy of old Peerless S265Q OPTs, with added E-linear taps, made by Heyboer". But, obviously - this mess isn't about those few OPTs, but nice theme for arguing (other themes are grid chokes, measurements, etc.). It's about deep disagreement that more and more becomes an irrational hate.
