but comming from the MQ camp, it is hardly suprising. You have reached the same conclusions as your Iron source, and you aren't really in a position to say anything otherwise. Just because Mike is in error in more than one place, you'll have to follow suit or suffer the consequences.Nice MQ sockpuppeting, right out of the Jute Wars. Sorry to see nothing has changed, and nobody has learned anything.Oh but there are always opportunities to learn things.For example, your post gives us the opportunity to learn firsthand what an ad hominem argument is and that you don't even know what sockpuppeting is.Please take notes, class. There will be a test on Monday.se
