

---

Subject: Re: Wiley Coyote MB?

Posted by Manualblock on Thu, 23 Mar 2006 12:35:04 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

500$ Peope out here pay twice that for a little poodle dog. I just paid 400$ for a westie-poo. Yep; you heard right. For the wife; a mix of poodle and westhighland terrier. He would make a good meal for one of those coondogs. Across the street they bought a mix of Golden retriever and Poodle. They call it a golden-doodle and charged them 800$ for basically a mutt. The dog was sired on a farm in South Dakota; so all of you with big property; raising a herd of golden-doodles can be mighty profitable. I saw the coyote dog thing; there are a lot of what they call coy-dogs upstate that are migrating south for food. Years ago they were importing coyotes to keep the deer population down and they mated with stray dogs. I don't think that guy on the news was a pure coyote. But LC; it's nice to see you have other hobbies besides audio.

---