Damir; thats a phrase we have never heard here; you have to explain that. However if you mean the concept that the illegals must go; then yes; they must go. They must go home and start working on making their homeland a better place to raise the families they left behind. Mexico is rich in natural resources, has plenty of land and water and sits between two oceans with ports for shipping. It sits at the crossroads of two continents that each have huge amounts of goods waiting to be shipped/manufactured/assembled and everything else you need to create a healthy vibrant economy. Therefor they should not be here; they should be busy getting their own house in order instead of stealing from Americans the things they sacrificed and died for.
