My parents used to take us kids to downtown Bayshore to go shoppingduring the 60's.Buster Brown shoes on main street was there.This is our country. Assimilated immigrants from years ago.My grandparents were proud, happy to learn English.They still spoke their native tounge when home or amongcertain friends, but English was the language spoken amongAmerican's. After all this is America.The oldest of our family didn't learn English because they were "old". The lazy lumps here now need to get with this country.If they like the Old Country so much better no one is stopping them from going back.GTF
