Subject: Strange Interview
Posted by Manualblock on Tue, 02 May 2006 11:50:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On the radio they are interviewing illegal aliens asking them questions. They ask if the illegals plan on leaving their poor paying jobs for a better job. They said yes they are working hard so they will not have to do these hard jobs forever. So; who then will do them? Americans? While the illegals get "better jobs"?Two illegals in High School said they are applying for college. There are organisations that help them get accepted into state colleges. Which American kid won't get into college so they can?Preganant women from Mexico come to clinics along the border on tourist visa's and give birth; so their kids can be citizens and bring the rest of the family over. Because; hey, you can't have a kids mom in another country right?