More like a bunch of trojans. This is an extension of whats going on all over South and Latin America; lefties taking over. Don't think this is not planned and directed by leftist groups specifically so they can establish a power base here in America; nothing to do with jobs, there are plenty of American citizens who will do that. So the conservative corporate lackeys wanted low wage workers to cut their bottom line; now they have a nation of revolutionaries to cut their throats.
