Good point. When I was a kid I always thought it was big trouble to have illegals working in your factory or shop. Now, these people are somehow holding together the fabric of the country by doing the jobs Americans wont do. Apparently I have been asleep for thirty years and just woke up. I missed key part along the way. Economically speaking I think you have hit the nail on the head. If our government made it so a business could not employ an illegal then they would have no means of income and no reason to flood this country.
